THE FAIR.

The Adair county fair opened Monday morning under the most favorable circumstances. The display of fine stock, horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, is the largest ever shown at the fair, and to see any of the fine herds of cattle is alone worth the price of admission.

AGRICULTURAL HALL.

The spaces in Agricultural hall is all taken. Kennedy & Kinnear have a fine display of agricultural implements, wagons and buggies. W. E. Greene & Co., have a fine display of stoves, agricultural implements, wagons and buggies. Their bath room fixtures are an important part of this firm's exhibit.

Grassie & Son's display of wagons, buggies, spring wagons and phaetons is larger and finer than ever, and attracts general attention.

The Truitt wagon manufactured by Mr. H. C. Truitt, of Novinger, occupies a prominent place in the hall, and is not only a credit to its manufacturer, but to Adair as well.

FLORAL HALL.

Floral Hall under the supervision of Mr. Paul R. Davis presents a very attractive appearance and is constantly thronged by men, women and children.

The display of farm products is all that can be desired in quality. It is not as extensive as it should be but if transferred to the St. Louis fair would certainly attract wide spread attention. In quality it is doubtful if any state could surpass it.

In the art department the displays of photographs and large pictures from the galleries of G. W. Tull, J. W. Tinsman and H. G. Parcell are arranged with pleasing effect. Mr. Tull's display is not only neat and attractive in arrangement, but the pictures in softness and delicacy certainly rival the work of the best artists of the country. He was awarded first premiums on pictures in India ink, crayon and water colors; also on best collection of photographs. Mr. Tinsman also carried away a number of blue ribbons. His sample of "uniformity in work"—a dozen pictures showing no perceptible difference in shading, was very fine.

Mrs. Pool's display of decorated china, Baird & Grassie's exhibit of sculpture and the fancy needlework department attract admiring crowds.

From Sig the grocer's corner an elegant lunch is served to all who call to partake of his hospitality.

FINE STOCK.

H. L. Libby of La Plata has a large display of draft horses.

Col. J. L. Porters herd of Jerseys carried off all the premiums of this class.

The fine herd of Herefords, ten in number, owned by Mr. George Novinger, of this county, was awarded four first premiums.

The celebrated herd of Short-horns, eleven in number, and owned by Thos. W. Ragsdale & Son Paris, Mo., is on exhibition, and was awarded six first premiums.

Mr. Ragsdale has taken $11,000 in prizes in the last twelve years.

Foster & Son's herd of Holsteins took five first premiums.

B. S. Kerns, herd of ten Holsteins was awarded eight premiums.

Minnear Bros. proprietors of Hickory Grove stock farm, had a fine display of Hereford cattle, draft horses and Poland-China swine. They captured a number of premiums.

The swine exhibit is equal in quality of stock, to any ever seen at the St. Louis fair. Gooding Bros., of LaPlata, breeders of Poland-China swine; J. M. Ketcham, of Love Lake, breeder of Chester Whites; J. H. Thompson, of LaPlata, breeder of Poland-Chinas; Minear Bros., of Adair, breeders of Poland-Chinas, and A. G. McClelland, of Adair, breeder of Victorias, all have herds of very fine animals on exhibition.

The races, while showing no great speed, have generally been good, and the animals evenly matched. The fair has been well attended and is beyond all question, the best in the history of the association. May it continue to improve.

Cole & Darrow have received a large stock of River Side Oats. Be sure and see these stores before buying. Every one warranted.

Henry Hannah is now located under the Hotel Steele on the West side of the square. He employs experienced barbers and is able to give all who call on him a first class shave or hair cut.
